Poll Everywhere Visual Redesign 2023

Overview of Improvements

Multiple Choice

Bar & Column Charts

Bar column charts have been updated visually to have a cleaner look that's easier to read. As answer results come in, the columns will continue to change according to the live results. The answer results are now displayed on the outside of the columns for increased visibility.
Correct answers will now show a green check mark and will be highlighted in a selected color while all other answers will be grayed out.

Word Cloud

Based on customer feedback we received, we've made all words in Word Clouds horizontal. This new layout will make it easier for the audience to read submitted responses.
In our new redesign, we increased the spacing in between participant responses as well as made it easier to scroll through responses. We have also changed the spotlight feature so that it enlarges the selected answer and makes it easier to read.

Q&A

Can we discuss the company goals for the upcoming year?

What advice would you give?

What topic will you be addressing next?
The Q&A upvoting and downvoting feature has been redesigned with thumbs up and thumbs down buttons to make it easier for participants to interact with responses. In our new design, you will need to click on the checkmark icon to mark a question as answered.
We improved Clickable Image to be more accessible and visible for participants. The pin marker is now a circle marker for increased clarity and the correctness feature will highlight correct answers in a shaded gray region.

Ranking

Ranking activities have been redesigned to be cleaner and easier to read. Column bars are now thinner allowing for more answer options, and the ranking number position is now displayed on the outside of each bar column. The process for creating Rankings is still the same.
Surveys are now easier to read and navigate through submitted responses. To help you focus on the results of the survey, we removed the names of the respondents from the activity display. As long as surveys are set to track responses and not set to anonymous, you can still find this information if needed.
Competition

Competition titles have been moved so they are front and center. This will allow participants to quickly and easily read each question. Within the leaderboard, participant names are now spaced out further to make it easier to see who is in the lead. Participants will still see the confetti at the end of the competition.
Activity Joining Instructions & QR Code

Joining and voting instructions will remain at the top of the activity screen. One of the most popular requests we received was for QR codes in activity joining instructions. Participants can now easily answer your Poll Everywhere activities by scanning the QR code with their mobile device, which will direct them to the activity answer page.

Timer

The timer function is now displayed on the top right hand side of the activity screen. There will also be a countdown in the presenter controls bar. By default, when the activity is first created, the timer will be set to OFF. Settings for the timer are located in the Configure tab. To turn on the timer, navigate to the Configure tab and click on the Time ribbon. There you can toggle the on/off button for the timer.
Presenter Controls Bar

We've added several new control features to the Presenter Controls Bar, including:

- Timer and a circle display which shows how much time is remaining
- Restart button allowing presenters to start the timer over
- Pause button to stop the timer if needed
